OVERVIEW

Early Years Educators are highly trained professionals who ensure young children learn and develop well. They work in a wide range of settings, including full day care, children's centres, and reception classes, and may also supervise others in delivering the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) requirements for children from birth to five.

Their responsibilities include planning and supervising both child-initiated and adult-led activities, supporting the development of language and numeracy through play, and ensuring each child feels safe and secure. Early Years Educators observe and shape children's learning experiences based on their individual needs while meeting their care requirements.

Working in partnership with colleagues, parents, carers, and other professionals, they play a vital role in creating nurturing environments that support children's holistic development and wellbeing.
